

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A seat elevating mechanism for chair particularly designed for old men and patients having weak legs 5 mainly includes a seat that can be elevated or lowered using a power-actuated telescopic lifter. The seat is maintained in a horizontal position while being elevated or lowered, so that a user may stably sit thereon until the seat is fully elevated or lowered 10 to enable the user to get up or sit down effortlessly.